THE BOLL WEEVIL FILMS.

The films showing how the boll weevil may be controlled are of special interest to the business men of Paris. These films are to be shown Friday and Saturday between 10 and 1 o'clock.

It is a recognized fact that the business men of Paris are so busy that they can spare only a few hours for golf or autoing every day; but it is really a matter of concern to learn something of the boll weevils.

The films were made by the department of agriculture and show that the department's experts have learned about fighting the weevil.

Naturally these films are supposed to have a great interest for cotton growers and the business man is usually disposed to let the producers take such interest as they please in such matters.

But the boll weevil is a bug which affects the material fortunes of every individual, firm, enterprise and undertaking in the county of Lamar and he is entitled to some consideration.

There are a few who have expressed the belief that the boll weevils were put here by God and therefore they should take no part in destroying them.

When one views the woe and the distress which has been caused by the boll weevil it occurs that in all probability the weevils are a product of the devil and there will be great merit in destroying them.

The boll weevil is holding back the development of the county in one way; though in another the weevils are forcing the county into other lines, so it may be regarded as something of a blessing.

But in the meantime the days of cotton growing are still with us and there should be a concerted effort on the part of every business man to assist the cotton growers in circumventing the damage as much as possible. Take an hour either Friday or Saturday and learn something.

A WELCOME TO THE BOYS.

On Friday and Saturday the boys who are members of the agricultural and live stock clubs of Lamar county will be the guests of the Chamber of Commerce; and they are, therefore, the guests of the entire city of Paris.

These boys should be given a warm welcome. They are the coming producers of the county and they are intent upon equipping themselves with knowledge of how they may achieve the greatest results in their chosen calling.

They are ambitious youngsters and they are intent upon accomplishing something for themselves which will mean much for the community of Lamar.

Some of the merchants have seen fit to offer prizes for the boys as a matter of an expression of good will and of tangible encouragement to them in their work of learning the business of farming and growing live stock. Others are welcome to do so and The News hopes they will.

The boys are to be entertained while in Paris; but they should have, in addition, a very warm welcome from every citizen of the community.

Money is good for a great deal if there is a great deal of money.

Little Stories for Bedtime

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.
How Little Mite Was Saved

The days and nights were very long to Little Mite, the runaway baby of Danny Meadow Mouse, and he wished and he wished and he wished that he never had thought of trying to see the Great World. Now that he was out in the Great World it seemed to him a dreadfully cruel place, and he didn't feel safe a minute—not a single minute. It seemed to him that no sooner had he escaped one danger than he walked straight into another, yet all the time he was trying his best to keep out of danger. He thought of that dear safe home under the pile of old corn stalks a great many times, and wished with all his heart that he was back there with his brother and sisters. He wondered if they missed him and if his father and mother had tried to find him. When he thought again for he had tried and tried to find his way back and couldn't, his eyes filled with tears.

But he didn't have a great deal of time for this kind of thing. He was too busy getting enough to eat and trying to keep out of trouble. He was learning how to take care of himself, but the lessons were very painful sometimes, and he realized how much better it would have been to have been content to stay at home and have been taught these things by his father, Danny Meadow Mouse. He had just learned that the eggs of birds are very delicious eating, but at the same time he had learned that one must be very sure that the owner of the eggs is nowhere about, and as a result he ached and smarted all over. You see, he had been caught by Little Friend the Song Sparrow right in Little Friend's nest. Next time he would be more clever when he stole eggs.

So Little Mite wandered on, looking for a place to live in peace and comfort, and at last he came to the edge of Farmer Brown's cornfield. Of course he didn't know it was a cornfield. He thought the young corn was simply another kind of grass. He ran into the field and actually hopped and skipped, for it was so good to have room enough. You see he had been so long struggling through thick grass, or running in narrow little paths, that to have room enough to jump in was

TOO MUCH GOLD.

He was a foolish king. He wanted gold more than anything else in the world. Indeed, he coveted the rare metal so inordinately he did not reckon the cost of the fulfillment of his desire. This man, who lived in Phrygia, Northwest of Asia, many years before the birth of Christ, was Midas.

One day Silenus in an intoxicated condition fell into the hands of some Phrygian peasants and was brought before the king. Realizing the inebriate was the teacher and companion of Dionysos, or Bacchus, as he was called by the Romans, the wanderer was entertained royally for a few days and then returned to his youthful but famous pupil.

Dionysos was so grateful he told the hospitable king he might have his fondest wish.

Without hesitation the royal coveter requested that everything he touched might be turned into gold.

"Your wish is granted," said Dionysos.

Midas was soon to regret his folly. He touched a rock, and, lo, it was gold! He leaned against a tree, and turned to find it shining yellow in the bright rays of the sun. His heart rejoiced. At last he would be the richest man in the world. His power would be supreme. One thing after another yielded to his magic touch, his throne, his crown, images, benches.

The capital of Phrygia was rapidly turning into a city of gold. (Concluded Tomorrow.)

DES MINES, May 24.—Rev. man shouted, leaning intently toward the jury box, his reddened countenance perspiring, his eye glasses slid down to the tip of his nose. "I was in front of this man Powers, I looked at him for a second, he dropped his eyes, and—"

Soderman screamed, "I shot him." It was several moments later that Defense Attorney McLean asked his concluding question where the witness obtained the pistol with which he fired the two shots and Soderman said in El Paso.

Cross examination by District Attorney Hughes inquired into Soderman's drinking habits and the witness testified to drinking normally a pint a week but finally to a pint every two days.

"That's a blind and an alibi," the witness hotly retorted, while Hughes continued to ask about his drinking. He said he never took more than two or three drinks each day, to a rule, and then only after working hours.

The witness also denied ever having expressed displeasure with Powers in a business way, or to having cast any reflections on him. He said his wife and he could not get along because "she was a shamed woman." He denied also ever having threatened Powers.

Dr. H. P. Brady, El Paso physician and surgeon, testifying prior to Soderman's taking the stand, declared his belief that Soderman was unsound in mind at the time that the physician treated him at an El Paso hospital shortly before the shooting and declared it was his opinion "that Soderman still is insane."

Dr. Brady, under cross examination by Special Prosecutor Jed Adams, admitted it to be possible for an insane man in some cases to be cunning enough to plan his defense before the commission of a crime. At first query the physician said he didn't think he "had better answer that," but being pressed made the admission. He admitted he was not an expert on mental disease.

Keep baby well by taking ice

YOU cannot keep milk fresh without it, even in Spring and Winter. In Summer the danger of stale milk is very great. It kills more babies than any other single cause—at least makes them uncomfortable and peevish in hot weather. When milk is over 50°, it spoils rapidly.

By all means have an ice box

It affords the only safe way of keeping milk and perishable food. No cellar is cool enough in Summer and no window box is safe enough in Winter. An ice box will pay for itself in a single season—saving food, to say nothing about protecting health and the family comfort.

Rebekahs Indicate Brookston Candidates

The degree staff of the Paris Rebekah lodge, of which Mrs. B. I. Jordan is the captain, went to Brookston Tuesday night and initiated six candidates.

The 23 members of the team went down overland and were assisted in the ceremonies by Mrs. J. B. Lamkin, president of the State Rebekah association.

There were several talks of much interest.

After the initiations, the ladies of the Brookston lodge served delicious cream and cake.

Honoring the Valedictorian.

A shower of unusual interest was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Danenman on East Price street Tuesday afternoon, Miss Mary Few, valedictorian on the class of '22, P. H. S., being the honoree.

The color scheme of pink and white was carried out in both living and dining room. The dining table was tastefully decorated with tulle hanging from the chandelier, and a large basket of sweet peas formed the centerpiece with small bowls of sweet peas where the tulle formed bows on the table.

The feature of the afternoon was a ladder covered with Dorothy Perkins roses, each round representing a step toward success. The first step was faith, followed by work, honesty, perseverance, knowledge and success.

On top of the ladder was a basket filled with gifts from the many admiring friends.

Rev. Mr. Fennell gave a talk explaining the steps, after which the honoree was asked to climb the ladder and find "success" at the top.

A short musical program was rendered after which a cake and cream course, in pink and white, was served.

Death of Miss Mary Jane Lane.

Miss Mary Jane Lane died at her home in Marshall, Texas, at 8 o'clock Saturday morning. Death came unexpectedly and the end was peace.

Miss Lane was well known in Paris and had many friends who will grieve to hear of her passing. In the twenty-three years of her active work as a U. D. C. she visited every large city in the State and was made an honorary president several years ago. She organized the Marshall chapter and was president of that chapter. She was 79 years of age and had spent the best part of her life keeping alive the brave deeds of her beloved and noble uncle, Gen. Walter P. Lane. Gen. Walter P. Lane entered service of Texas in 1861 in Co. A, Reg. 3rd, Raised a regiment of partisan Rangers as Col. Com. d'gen' and was promoted to rank of brigadier general.

She was badly wounded at battle of San Jacinto and for gallant service in that battle was elected second lieutenant. The record of his deeds in different battles has been signed by such men as W. W. Heatsill, U. C. V. commander of W. P. Lane camp, Marshall, Texas; E. B. Blocker, assistant surgeon; J. H. Bell, commander A. 3rd Texas cavalry, who was with him in four battles.

Gen. Lane was president of Texas Veteran association, which position he held at the time of his death in 1892. The Encyclopedia of the New West closes a biographical sketch with the following tribute: "Gen. Lane with honor returned to his home in the beautiful city of Marshall, where he has since resided, without pretense or ostentation, his noble and brave heart pulsating in consonance with high-toned chivalry and receiving the esteem and admiration of all who love the brave and just."

Girl Scout Notes

The lodge which the Girl Scouts hope soon to have is to be called the "Blue Bonnet Lodge," after the flower which the Texas legislature adopted on February 29, 1901, as the State emblem.

In the spring, the fields of South Texas are carpeted with a gorgeous display of blue and purple one who has never seen these acres upon acres of Mother Nature's gift cannot imagine their glory. They must be seen to be appreciated.

The bluebonnet is a real Texan—the five petals of the Lone Star correspond to its five petals; one stands upright as a signal, with one on either side at the top, and two below. The white star-shaped formation at the base of the largest central petal, changes color as the flower matures until it is a blood-red, symbolic of the price with which the State won her freedom.

Thus the three National colors—red for the heroes' blood, white for their purity of heart and blue for faith and courage. Could any flower be more suggestive of the things which Texans have always honored and paid homage to?

Patriotic emblems are not always beautiful or artistic, but artists the world over, have come to Texas to paint the bluebonnet in its season.

Thus, in using the bluebonnet

CAMP IS READY FOR THE SCOUTS

Week of Training is to Begin Monday Morning With a Full List

Everything will be in readiness in the big camp which starts Monday. Scout Executive Frank Fuller has gotten wonderful support from the Scouts in getting the tennis court and athletic field ready for the camp.

Scoutmaster E. J. Hubbel was out yesterday and marked off the tennis court and the Scouts have gotten the net wire back steps up and the Scouts will be able to play on it Monday.

Scout Executive Frank Fuller will go to Dallas Friday and Saturday to attend the Scout Executive conference. Scout men from all over the State will be present to discuss scouting from every angle, but especially the camping program.

There will be no week-end camp this week and the Scouts are requested not to go swimming out there, inasmuch as there will be no one to look after them. The Scouts are urged to stay at home and do their work around home, so that they can get the full benefit of the camp.

A large number of boys have paid their camping fee of $3. Those who have not will kindly do so at once, as we want to know as soon as possible the exact number of boys that will be in camp.

AN INVOLUNTARY BANKRUPT PROCEEDING INSTITUTED

The petition is signed by Roberts, Sanford & Taylor company, the Morton Milling company and the L. H. Lewis company, all of Dallas, who are alleged to be creditors.

Mayor Dewese and Secretary W. G. George signed the contract yesterday with McGuire & Cavender, the successful bidders for the dam construction for the new reservoir, and the contract with John P. Steger to whom was awarded the contract for the pump-house and the filtration plant. The contracts were forwarded to the bonding company in the afternoon. It will take about a week to get them back.

The presence of a small amount of white of egg in Calumet makes it possible to continually guard the leavening strength of the World's biggest selling brand of baking powder. It makes it possible for representatives of the Company to test Calumet right in the dealers' stores.

Housewives can make this simple test themselves. Place two level teaspoons of Calumet in an ordinary drinking glass—add the same amount of water; stir rapidly for a moment—just long enough to mix the powder and water; remove the spoon and watch the mixture rise. Notice how even and uniform the gas bubbles are—through the use of a small amount of white of egg, the escape of gas, which raises your bakings, is prevented.

This test of leavening strength cannot be made with baking powders that do not contain white of egg. Buy it—use it—be protected against baking powder that has lost its proper leavening strength.

You save when you buy it—you save when you use it.

There is White of Egg in Before spending money—stop and answer squarely to yourself this question: "Is what I am thinking of buying worth the money if costs, plus the interest on that money for the remainder of my life?"

Some things are—many are not.

Beauty More than Skin Deep.
There is an old saying that beauty is only skin deep. That may be so with those who get their beauty out of a box but not the genuine sort. Beauty is really only another word for good health and no woman who is bilious and constipated can reasonably hope to be beautiful. Chamberlain's Tablets will correct these disorders, then with proper diet and exercise there is no reason why any young woman with regular features may not hope to be beautiful.

ADSTERS TO HAVE A LOT OF GUESTS

They Will Look Out for the Boys Who are to Attend
the Short Course

The Adsters met yesterday in regular session with only a small attendance. In fact about the lightest in several months. There was no lack of interest, however, on the part of those who were present, and things went off with a snap and dash that was good to see.

W. G. North, county agent, was among the visitors present, and told the Adsters about the short course for the boys agricultural clubs that is to be held in the city beginning Friday, and stated that the affair promised to be very interesting and instructive. According to Mr. North there will be about 150 boys present on Friday, and this number will be considerably augmented on Saturday. The course will consist of lectures supplemented by motion picture slides, with A. and M. college experts present to deliver the lectures. The Adsters agreed to help out on this proposition, and have made their arrangements along this line.

Rube Sykes, who is about the best and only left handed fiddler in captivity, was an invited guest, and entertained with selections from his fiddle. Sykes played all the old time tunes, such as "Turkey in the Straw" and other classics of that nature and drew great applause for his efforts.

J. W. Dewese was another

guest who was called upon for an address. As the mayor had only about an hour's warning that he would be called upon he did not have time to prepare a lengthy speech, but what he did say was to the point. He thanked the Adsters for the part they had played during the past in the upbuilding of the city, and asked their co-operation in the future. Mayor Dewese is a man who can be depended upon to say and do the right thing at the right time, and yesterday was no exception to the rule.

At the conclusion of the program a motion was made that the Adsters adjourn during the summer months. After some discussion it was decided that the last meeting for the summer would be held next Thursday evening, and the lunch is to be served at Wade Park. This last meeting until the summer is over will be in the nature of a picnic and the families of the married members will be present, and those who haven't families will be invited to bring their friends or sweethearts, as the case may be. This will be the occasion for a big time, as after the lunch is served there will probably be dancing at the Wade Park pavilion. The hour of assembly is set at 7 o'clock and all members are urged to be present at that time.

In disbanding for the summer months the Adsters can look back over nine months of work in which they have accomplished everything they started out to do, and have been active and energetic when called upon. Every proposition they have undertaken has been put over, and put right, hence they have a just reason to feel proud of their past nine months' record based on results accomplished.

The disbandment is not permanent—merely a vacation,

TOURIST PARK TO BE OPENED

Lions Will Have the Executive Committee of C. of C. as Their Guests

Large signs were put up yesterday directing automobile tourists to the campsite that has been built and fitted up for their convenience in West Paris. One of the signs was put up at the corner of Fifth and Bonham streets and the other at the southeast corner of the park that can be seen from Bonham street.

The signs read: "Garrett's Auto Tourist Park Free. Welcome." The park is named in honor of Henry P. Garrett, a resident of Bonham street, who gave the ground for it and helped to establish it.

The park will be opened this evening by the Lions club, as heretofore announced. The president of the Lions club has extended an invitation to all the members of the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce to attend the opening as its guests.

Quarterly Conference at Bonham Street Church.
The second quarterly conference for the year was held at the Bonham Street Methodist church last night, Rev. S. A. Barnes presiding.

Representatives from the board of stewards, trustees, Woman's Missionary Societies and Epworth League were present, and a number of other lay members of the church, making a very good attendance.

(The women representatives were admitted under the new ruling of the Hot Springs conference, which made them eligible to the conference itself.)

The reports as a whole, showed the church in a much better condition than for some time past.

The Sunday school is the largest and most interested in the history of the church, and the Epworth League made a similar showing.

SIX GRADUATED IN NURSE CLASS

Diplomas and Pins Awarded by the Mother Supervisor of St. Joseph's

Yesterday was observed as graduation day for the senior class in nursing at St. Joseph's Infirmary, six young ladies receiving their diplomas.

They attended mass at Our Lady of Victory church, and about 9 o'clock, the diplomas and pins were awarded by the supervisor, Mother Phillips to Misses J. Calhoun, Swindler, Becker, Wooten, Nitsch, and Boiteux. This was a private presentation, and only the nurses were present.

At noon, there was a dinner in honor of the graduates at the Infirmary. The dining room was most attractively decorated for the occasion, and a beautiful centerpiece was formed of red and white carnations. The menu was an elaborate one, and well served.

In the evening, the junior nurses gave the graduates a most enjoyable picnic at Sperry's lake, and a bountiful spread was provided.

On Friday night, there will be a dance complimentary to the graduates at the Knights of Columbus hall.

Ever since the founding of St. Joseph's, there have been at least two or three graduates every year, and as time goes on, the number of young women who give themselves to the service of nursing under the sisters, increases.

All the world knows the value and comfort of these ministrations and in providing this training school for young women, the church is upholding the long tradition that acts of mercy and service to others are one of her first requisites.

LIONS TO HAVE A BIG SUPPER

Will Celebrate the Completion of the Well Equipped Park
for Tourists

The Lions are to assemble this evening at 6:30 at the new tourist park and partake of a splendid luncheon and hear a splendid program. The program committee consists of B. W. Tinnin, Horace High and Drue Alexander. This committee has secured Rev. Harold Hennessey to deliver an address and the Lion quartet will furnish the music.

This is only a part of the program as President J. O. Pirtle has several other interesting features to spring on the members and their guests.

The luncheon has been prepared by an expert in the art of barbecue, and such filling and satisfying dishes as country ham and barbecued chicken has a prominent place on the menu, and this is topped off with other delicacies.

Every member who cannot be present is asked to phone the secretary early this morning, in order that he may know how many to arrange for. The meeting is being held at the park as a part of the celebration of the completion of the camp. This park is one of the best arranged and best equipped camps of the kind in the State and as the Lions had a prominent part in the building and securing of same they naturally feel rather a proprietary interest in the park and the grounds.

This meeting will be an enjoyable occasion, as the evening meal and the meal is to be served in the open air.

METHODS OF CONTROLLING THE BOLL WEEVIL

CALCIUM ARSENATE THE ONLY POISON

Coad Warns Against Liquid Sprays for Poisoning the Boll Weevil

A warning against liquid sprayer attachments to cotton poisoning machinery is issued by B. R. Coad, director of the boll weevil laboratory of the United States department of agriculture.

Calcium arsenate applied as a dust, he points out, is the only certain means yet found for controlling the boll weevil and any effort at control by means of liquid sprays is useless.

Sprayer attachments are, therefore, not only unnecessary but are an added burden. They increase the cost of the machinery and make it more complicated and difficult to operate.

The liquid spray, even if it were as effective as the dust method would be decidedly more expensive. It would necessitate the use of water carts, to feed the machines, would demand an ample and constant supply which is not available on most farms, and in various ways would increase the cost of poisoning operations.

Orchardists and others who have to conduct poisoning operations regularly are constantly searching for poisons that can be dusted instead of sprayed. Cotton growers are very fortunate in that the calcium arsenate method of controlling the boll weevil is the dust method and they should not waste time and money. Mr. Coad points out, in experimenting with the expensive spray methods that farmers in other lines are so constantly trying to get away from.

In addition to the foregoing spraying equipment we also find on the market many curious devices for applying some liquid preparation, usually containing calcium arsenate, for the control of the boll weevil. Some of these are to be attached to plows, others to cultivators, while still others are independently. They are usually provided with some exceedingly simple form of tank with a gravity flow of liquid, which either drips on the plants or is wiped on them by some form of brushes or rags.

The literature advertising these implements promises wonderful results and the directions given often call for only a small fraction of a pound of poison per acre, which is distributed over the plants in a very irregular manner. To expect boll weevil control from such methods is absolutely absurd.

The department specialists have been attending boll weevil control with liquid applications for many years. In these tests they use the latest available high pressure spray machinery, distributing the liquid poison over the plants in a mist form, thus reaching absolutely every part of the plant. Furthermore, these applications are usually made at the rate of 100 gallons of solution per acre. In spite of this these spray applications do not control the boll weevil, and how can anyone expect to secure benefit from the absurd recommendations now offered by some of the machines?

Farmers who desire more detailed information on this subject may secure it free of charge by writing the Delta Laboratory, Tallulah, La.

MOLASSES POISONS ARE OF NO AVAIL

Conclusion is Based Upon Exhaustive Experiments at the Tallulah Station

In poisoning the cotton boll weevil with calcium arsenate, nothing is gained and a great deal is lost by mixing the poison with molasses or molasses and water, say the boll weevil specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture.

This announcement is based on painstaking trials of the molasses mixtures conducted at the Delta Laboratory at Tallulah, La., at a number of other points in the cotton belt, and on observation of results secured by farmers in various States who attempted last year to follow the molasses method.

The department authorities state that the molasses-calcium arsenate method does exercise a measure of control under certain favorable conditions for a short period, but it is less effective than dry calcium arsenate and it costs more. The Department found no complete success in complete covering of the plants with the poison, and this can be accomplished only by applying it in the form of a dust cloud that will settle down over all surfaces of the plants.

The methods of application recommended by the advocates of the molasses mixtures were tried out by the department years ago and were found unworkable, but they were given another thorough trial last season after the molasses method began to be again widely advocated in the more newly infested portions of the cotton belt.

The molasses-calcium arsenate mixture was found to exercise considerable measure of control over the weevil in very dry weather and when the plants were very small. The control was lost with the coming of the weather and even when the weevil continued dry, control was lost after the plants passed a few inches in height.

In five out of six field trials, the plants treated with dry calcium arsenate made more cotton than the corresponding plants treated with molasses-calcium arsenate, the difference ranging as high as 399 pounds of seed cotton to the acre. In one trial, an unpoisoned check plot made 20 pounds more seed cotton to the acre than the corresponding plot poisoned with molasses-calcium arsenate.

Careful figures were kept as to the relative cost of the two systems of poisoning. The cost of materials for the dry calcium arsenate system was 65 cents per acre for each application. The cost of materials for the molasses-calcium arsenate treatment ranged from 79 cents per acre for each application when black strap molasses was used to $1.49 per acre for each application when table syrup was used. The man-labor cost of applying the poison was 14 cents per acre per application for dry calcium arsenate and 22 cents for the molasses mixture. The machinery cost for applying the dry calcium arsenate averaged 15 cents per acre for each application. The molasses mixture was applied with home-made mops and no machinery cost was figured against it, though this item would have to be figured in plantation scale operations. Even with this advantage, the total cost of applying the molasses mixture ranged from 92 cents to $1.71 against an average of 94 cents for the dry calcium arsenate.

The department concludes, therefore, that the use of the molasses mixture is not justified either on the ground of control or economy. Farmers who wish more detailed information on this subject can have it free by writing the Delta Laboratory, Tallulah, La., where the boll weevil work of the department is centered.

MANY BOYS WILL COME TO PARIS

County Agent North is Greatly Pleased With Promises for the Short Course

After having made a visit to several of the communities, County Agent North is of the opinion that the short course to be held at the Chamber of Commerce Friday and Saturday will be attended by a large number of the boys who are members of the agricultural clubs of the county.

He has received assurance that the boys from Deport, Blossom, Reno, Glory, Roxton, Chicota, Forest Chapel and Pattonville will be here; and is hopeful that a considerable number of others will be on hand.

President H. L. Baker has written to sixty members of the Lamar State bank club and he is of opinion that at least half of them will be in attendance.

County Agent North has arranged this tentative program:

though there may be changes therein as circumstances necessitate.

Friday morning, 9:30—Address of welcome; response by the district agent, Mr. Stamford.

Organization: view of the boll weevil film at the Parisian theater. Luncheon.

Afternoon—Field work at the Morris stock farm, where there will be found Jersey dairy cattle, duroc jersey hogs and poultry.

Supper.

Picture show at the Parisian, where Tom Mix will be the attraction.

Saturday morning—Indoor work and talks by extension experts J. E. Stamford, W. L. Persons, A. K. Short, M. R. Bentley, Dr. W. F. Patton.

Luncheon followed by field work at the North Star stock farm on dairy cattle, hogs and poultry; judging contests.

Awarding of prizes for various tests of excellence.

HELPED FARMERS SECURE CHOPPERS

Constable Frank Geron Sends a Hundred Negroes to the Cotton Patch

Constable Frank Geron put in a busy day yesterday helping the farmers get hands to chop cotton. There have been many idle negroes in town from choice while many farmers have been forced to be idle on account of excessive rains keeping the ground too wet to work.

Now that the farmers have a chance to do something toward making a crop Constable Geron was anxious to help them. He didn't have any patience with able-bodied darkies who were idle from choice. Accordingly he got busy sending them to the cotton patch. He stated last night that he loaded seventy-five negroes in cars for farmers during the day.

If you want a service car, call 268.

Two Million Dollars To the Boll Weevils

That is about what it cost the cotton growers of Lamar county last year to feed the boll weevils. The pests are already in the fields, it is reported, awaiting the coming of the cotton.

How to Control the Pest

Is shown in two films prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture which will be shown at the Grand Theater in Paris between 10 and 1 o'clock on May 26 and 27.

Every cotton grower, merchant and other citizens of Lamar and adjoining counties is invited to see these films and to learn something of the pest and its habits. There is no charge for admission.

These films are being shown through courtesy of the Texas Midland Railroad.

ARTHUR CITY IS FREE OF WEEVILS

Squire Douglas Confident that the Pest Will Not Do a Deal of Damage There

The Boll Weevil Problem.

Is the title of a pamphlet just issued by the Federal department of agriculture. It deals very thoroughly with the methods of reducing damage by the weevil. It will be sent to any address by writing to the division of Publications, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., and asking for Farmers Bulletin 1262. There is no charge for the pamphlet.

W. R. Douglas of Arthur City isn't spending much time devising a scheme to circumvent the boll weevils this year because he says and with a great deal of confidence that he isn't going to be bothered with them this time. He hasn't seen one himself this year and hasn't found a man who has seen one. In the years when the weevils eat up the cotton, he said, they are to be seen all through the winter and all through the spring, and in the year following the year in which they made a clean-up there has always been a good crop. He doesn't know how to account for it, but he knows it is a fact.

W. G. King, living 3 1/2 miles northeast of Paris, says he doesn't know of any remedy for fighting the weevils, but the farmers will have to take some measures to get rid of them. It won't do much good for one man to try by himself to get rid of them if his neighbors harbor them and give them a chance to invade his field when they clean them out.

The war, he says, is how, ever, the farmers can't afford to go to much expense in fighting the weevils. A practical remedy will have to be found the cost of which will not be prohibitive.

He says he is putting his dependence in chickens, hogs and turkeys. He has twenty-four little turkeys and if they all live he expects them to bring him more than a bale of cotton. Last year he sold turkeys for $67 and was not out a penny on them. He raised one bale of cotton that he sold for $102 and spent $365 in making it.

W. M. Shannon, who farms on the river at Direct, said that he has been figuring on trying to fight the weevils, but he will have to plant some first to figure out. It will take several days yet for the ground in the bottom to be dry enough to plant. He has been thinking about trying the remedy suggested by S. A. Cunningham of sprinkling arsenic dust on the cotton.

March England of Springfield says he has a little patch of cotton by itself that he is going to experiment with weevils on if they come this year, and if it kills them he will know what to do. He hasn't seen any signs of weevils yet and hopes they will not come.

Jesse Hannah, living southeast of town says if the weevils come he isn't going to do anything for them. If the farmers will quit raising cotton they won't have any weevils, or they won't do any damage. When we have a wet spring and the creeks are all over the bottom insects stay in the weeds along the branches and in the bottom, but if the season is pretty dry in July and August he isn't afraid they will give him any trouble.

DIVERSIFIED VIEWS ON BOLL WEEVILS

Many Lamar County Farmers Would Use Remedy if They Knew an Effective One

J. H. Lynch of Chicota said that if the boll weevils come this year he doesn't know what he can do to them unless it be to make a solution of concentrated lye and gargle or drench them with it. He has never heard of any successful remedy; but in one of the chapters of the Book of Malachi the promise is given in regard to the payment of tithes that if he will give the tenth into the house of the Lord the Lord will rebuke the devourer for his sake and that they shall not destroy the fruit of the ground.

G. G. Cass, living in the Chicota community, said that he doesn't know of anything in the world that he can do to the boll weevils. If he did he would sure put the fixings on them. He has been told that it just takes fire to kill them.

D. T. Elliott of Minner said that he is going to starve them to death by not raising any cotton to speak of. He has a heavy feed crop and is raising stock. He says he hasn't got enough cotton to go very far toward keeping up the weevils. The boll weevil proposition can be worked two ways. They have been nearly starving him by eating up his cotton. He can turn the tables and starve them by not raising any cotton for them to eat.

T. H. Radford, living near Sumner, says if the weevils he isn't going to do a doggone thing to keep them from eating up his cotton. They have been here always and will be here always, because there is no way to dispose of them. A fellow may do away with them to some extent, but he can't do away with them entirely. They are inherited here and he won't do a frazzling thing. If they eat up his cotton they will just have to eat it.

J. B. Lewis of the Pattonville community says he has a sure remedy for boll weevils, which is to rotate the crops and plant corn where he had weevils last year. The only other way he knows to get rid of weevils is to plant the cotton in December, work it out in January and pick it in February.

Matt Yates of Atlas says he hasn't thought anything about it and doesn't know of any remedy. He doesn't know of but one thing to do—plant it and work it and if it makes anything pick it.

Charles Rasberry of Broadway says he doesn't know whether he will do anything. He doesn't know of any remedy for the weevils.

A. E. Ball of Minter says that the best boll weevil medicine that he knows of is to get the seed in the ground as early as he can and work it out as soon as he can. He isn't studying up anything to dope the weevils with and if they come he reckons he will have to let them eat it up. There may be a remedy for them, but it is a question whether it won't cost more than it comes to.

G. W. Matthews of the Atlas community says that if he should have weevils he isn't going to try to do a thing to them. There is an overproduction of cotton anyhow and weevils or something else is needed to hold it down. Furthermore, there is no use in trying to get rid of a pest that God Almighty has put on them.

CARRIED SWARM OF BEES TO HIS HOME

Frank Roach Accumulated Them While Hunting Something Else

HALESBORO, May 20.—Frank H. Roach has added another fine specimen to his collection of Italian bees to his apiary. He was in the woods hunting squirrels when he heard a roaring sound. He looked and saw that the whole atmosphere was full of bees. After a while they settled in a tall oak tree. They were such fine specimens that he decided to make an attempt to capture them. Armed with a rope and a pocket knife, he climbed the tree and after dissecting the limb he slowly lowered them to the ground. George Mixon was to help put them in a sack. The coach called to Mixon for assistance, but he was nowhere to be seen. After discussing that he couldn't put the bees into the sack, Roach threw the limb that held the bees on his shoulder and carried them to his home, a distance of two miles. The bees are well contented in their new home and are making honey very fast.

Another wolf hunt was staged last week. The hounds ran the wolf all over the country a number of times. The wolf was seen by several people, and one man, S. P. Cogbill, shot at him nine times but failed to hit. The wolf took refuge in the yard of John Reed, and he made his little dog catch the wolf several times. The wolf and dogs finally disappeared, as the horses were all run down. It was impossible to count the chase. A lucky party at F. M. Cogbill's afforded the young folks a great lot of pleasure Friday night. Miss Mattie Patton took the prize offered for the tackiest woman. Albert Forester won the prize for the best bread and butter milk were served. Thieves entered the barn of Robt. Forester and took about fifteen bushels of cotton seed. As Mr. Forester said his crop, he feels less rather sharply. He will be compelled to buy again, and cotton seed in this country are as scarce as hens' teeth.

The mysterious woman who was recently seen near here has not been seen any more. S. P. Patton took a day off and went squirrel hunting. He was accompanied by F. M. Cogbill, called the "knight of the woods." They bagged ten squirrels and enjoyed an excellent time. One of Halesboro's young men was coming home about 12 o'clock the other night on the north road, and just as he got even with the graveyard his engine went dead. But when he saw where he was he shook the car so badly the old flivver thought that the motor was running and came clear to town before it discovered its mistake.

"I used a bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets some time ago and they proved to be just what I needed. They relieved me of indigestion, tone up my liver and rid me of headaches that I had been subject to. They did me a world of good and I will always speak a good word for them," writes Mrs. Volta Bankson, Chillicothe, Mo.

WHEAT WENT OFF FULL SIX CENTS

Extraordinarily Heavy Receipts Due to the Expectation of High Prices

CHICAGO, May 24.—With an apparently endless flood of wheat rushing into Chicago to catch expected high prices before the end of this month, the wheat market suddenly gave way today under the strain. May delivery underwent a sheer fall of 6 cents a bushel in value. The market taken as a whole, closed heavy 15 1/2 cents net lower with May 1.12 1/2, July 1.22 1/2, Sept. 1.22 1/2, corn and oats both finished 4 1/2 to 5 cents down. In provisions the outcome was unchanged to 7 cents higher. Flour, the principal item in the market, had advanced the high for other prices 50 cents as this month was concerned. Whether prevalent opinion that the bull campaign for wheat had reached an end and was correct or otherwise high receipts which were seemingly assured for the remainder of the month forced it from the outset. Deliveries on May contracts this morning amounted to 22,000 bushels, approximately 8,000 more than the previous day. The Liverpool market was unresponsive to yesterday's sharp advance here. Exports today advanced the high for other prices 50 cents, but no important crop damage news was in sight. Higher quotations on hogs finally brought about an upturn in the provision market, but the influence of the break in grain values.

AN ADVANCE IN HOGS BROUGHT ACTIVITY

PORT WORTH, May 24.—Steers and calves of all sorts found a steady basis Wednesday but cows and yearlings were peddled at a decline of 10 to 15 cents. The trade supported a barely steady trend. Some Texas heaves went at 6.00 to 6.25. A few choice native calves brought 7.50, but high range bulk sales ranged from 2.00 to 2.50 head of cattle and 100 calves. Receipts of about 10 cents prompted activity in hog trading, where receipts were close to 2,000 head. Packers and shippers made good at 10.15 and a good many lambs had to sell at 3.00 to 4.00. Weathers and ewes made 6.00, 7.75 to 10.10.

WEEKLY RECEIPTS REGARDED AS BULLISH

NEW ORLEANS, May 24.—An unfavorable interpretation of the weekly crop reports from the government was the main influence in the cotton market today and it put prices higher following early decline under private reports from New York estimating May tenders at 6,000 bales and in the face of continued liquidation of long contracts. Highest prices came almost on the close when the list stood at net gains of 13 to 21 points. The close itself was at net gains of 8 to 14 points. July traded as high as 19.50 and closed at 19.50. The first decline carried the market off to 18.50 for July and put the list 5 to 18 points under yesterday's close. New buying met this recession but after small deliveries liquidation became heavy again and July sagged to 18.50, a net loss of 23 points. Other months were steadier and after the reading of the weekly reports which were considered much less favorable than expected, there was a sharp rally to net advances of 11 to 19 points. Further small recessions followed but in the late trading the tone became very steady again. The market was active throughout the session but was more of a trading affair than it had been of late.

COTTON GOODS QUIETER WITH PRICES STEADY

NEW YORK, May 24.—Cotton goods were quieter today with prices steady. Yarns were firm. Burlaps advanced. Silk was firm. With products, silks and worsted yarns were quiet on a higher level.

MORE ACTIVITY IN RAW SUGAR MARKET

NEW YORK, May 24.—There was more activity in the local raw sugar market today and prices were higher for all varieties with spot and June shipment all cables now quoting at 23 1/2 cents, cost and freight, equal to 4 1/2 for centrifugal. The sales included 100,000 bags of Cuban raw loading and prompt shipment at quoted prices, 15,000 bags of Philippine islands for early June arrival at 4 1/2, and 9,500 bags of later arrival at 4 1/2. Besides 38,000 bags of Porto Rico late June loading at 4 1/2.

COFFEE QUIET BUT WITH SOME ADVANCE

NEW YORK, May 24.—The market for coffee futures was quiet today. Covering by near months seemed largely responsible for opening advance of 4 to 5 points. Spot coffee was reported in slightly better demand at 10 1/2 to 10 3/4 for Rio 7s and 14 1/2 to 14 3/4 for Santos 1s.

OFFERINGS OF COTTON SEED OIL WERE LIGHT

NEW YORK, May 24.—Except for a little belated short covering in May, there was little feature to cottonseed oil offerings were light. HONEY GROVE TO

Proposed to Increase the Special Tax so that Standard
May Be Maintained

HONEY GROVE, May 24.—
Miss Helen Danenbauer left yesterday afternoon for Denton where she will spend some time visiting relatives.

H. G. Evans of Bonham was in the city yesterday and last night on business.

Henry Breneman of Paris was a visitor in Honey Grove Tuesday.

Calvin Newberry of McKinney spent Tuesday night and Wednesday in Honey Grove with relatives.

Joe McKee came in yesterday from Plainview to visit relatives and friends here for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wood and daughter, Miss Florence, and Mr.
and Mrs. Albert Hester went to Dallas yesterday, driving through in a car. Mr. and Mrs. Wood will return Sunday.

Hon. Sterling P. Strong, candidate for the United States senate, spoke at the tabernacle in this city this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the interest of his candidacy.

Owing to the date not being advertised a very small crowd heard the address. Mr. Strong spoke along the lines of his opening address and discussed the issues of the campaign in a clear cut manner.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Connell left this afternoon for Denton, where they will attend the Denton Normal this summer.

The city commissioners have issued a call for an election to be held June 24 for the purpose of seeing whether an additional tax of 10 cents will be voted for school purposes. The present school tax is 55 cents and it is proposed to make it 65 cents in order to keep the school up to the present standard. Owing to the reduced appropriations for next year, it will be difficult to employ high-class teachers unless the tax is voted. The petition praying for the election was signed by approximately 100 tax paying citizens of the district.

"I was eating scarcely enough to keep alive," she declared, "for I would rather not touch a bite than suffer the misery I knew would follow. Even sweet milk disagreed with me. I was sick in bed for two and three days at a time, and gastritis on my stomach made such awful pressure on my heart it almost cut off my breath. I had horrible dreams at night and in the morning
I was almost tired out."

"Well, the longest day I live I will praise Tanlac, for my improvement has been simply remarkable.
I have no more heartburn, my appetite is wonderful, I can eat most anything I want, and my sleep is sound and restful. I am thoroughly delighted with Tanlac. It is wonderful!"

MRS. J. D. MILLER
OF COOPER DEAD

She Passed Away in Greenville Sanitarium After a Serious Illness

COOPER, May 24.—The many friends of Mrs. J. D. Miller, wife of J. D. (Delbert) Miller of Cooper, were shocked to hear of her death in a Greenville sanitarium
Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Miller had resided in Cooper practically all her life. She reared three daughters to mourn her loss.

—Mrs. Hubert Sharp of Ardmore,
Ok., Mrs. Ralph Lain of Cooper and Miss Valie Miller, also of Cooper, Mrs. Miller will be missed by many for her deeds of kindness.

Mayor Hazelwood is having some new plank crossings placed where most needed in the different parts of the city.

The eighth grade of the East ward school entertained with a class party at the home of R. J.
Chandler in East Cooper. A grand time was had and many things discussed about the past school term.
This grade goes to Cooper High next term.

Manager Sparks of the Grand and Lyric theaters will have open house at the Lyric Thursday afternoon and put on for the benefit of the farmers the boll weevil film be-want every farmer to see these pic-insisted on them going to the cotton patch. The advice was accepted and Wednesday it was nearly impossible to find a negro in town.

minute count this week and killing a world of grass and weeds, very few of them coming to town and those who do, come late in the evening bringing in cotton choppers.
